

Applications are accepted only through the Electronic Residency Application Service (ERAS®). All applicants must be registered with the National Resident Matching Program (NRMP®).

Application Requirements

Applicants must submit the following through ERAS:

- Medical school transcript
- Medical Student Performance Evaluation (MSPE/Dean's Letter)
- Personal statement describing interest in Family Medicine and career goals.
- Curriculum vitae
- Three letters of recommendation (at least one from a Family Medicine physician)
- Passing score on USMLE Step 1 and/or Step 2, or COMLEX Level 1 and/or Level 2

Applications are reviewed holistically. Academic achievement, clinical performance, leadership experiences, community service, commitment to underserved populations, and alignment with the mission of Family Medicine are all considered during the selection process.

Who is a Good Fit for Our Program?

The Sun Life Health Family Medicine Residency seeks residents who are passionate about providing comprehensive, patient-centered care to diverse and underserved communities. As a Federally Qualified Health Center (FQHC)-sponsored residency, our program emphasizes whole-person care, population health, health equity, and community engagement.

Successful applicants often demonstrate:

- A commitment to Family Medicine as a lifelong career
- Interest in caring for underserved, rural, and medically complex populations
- Dedication to health equity and community service

- Dedication to health equity and community service
- Strong teamwork, professionalism, and leadership skills
- Commitment to growth, service, and compassionate care

Residents train in a supportive environment that values collaboration, innovation, and service. Our goal is to develop outstanding Family Medicine physicians who will improve the health of the communities they serve.

Interview Process

Interview invitations are extended beginning in October and continue through January. Interviews are conducted virtually via Microsoft Teams on Fridays.

Applicants who are invited to interview may also choose to attend an optional in-person tour of the Sun Life Health Casa Grande Medical Campus and nearby Banner Casa Grande Medical Center, located across the street. This optional visit provides applicants an opportunity to see the clinical learning environment and become more familiar with the community where residents train.

Applicants selected for an interview will have the opportunity to:

- Meet with residency leadership and faculty
- Learn about our curriculum and training sites
- Explore our community-based, FQHC-sponsored training model

Interview format will not affect applicant ranking. The residency program follows NRMP policies and is committed to a fair, equitable, and transparent selection process.

The program currently unable to sponsor J-1 visa

Visiting Medical Student Rotations

Fourth-year medical students interested in Family Medicine rotations may apply through the Visiting Student Learning Opportunities (VSLO) program or contact the residency program coordinator for additional information regarding rotation opportunities and availability.

Visiting students rotate primarily at Sun Life Health Medial Campus. Applications are reviewed on a rolling basis, and rotation availability is limited.

Equal Opportunity Statement

The Sun Life Health Family Medicine Residency Program is committed to fostering an inclusive learning environment that values diversity, equity, and respect. We welcome applicants from all backgrounds and evaluate candidates without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, or any other protected characteristic.

We believe that a diverse physician workforce strengthens patient care, enhances learning, and improves the health of the communities we serve.
